Cooling Tower and Water Treatment Class

On January 22nd, our very own Service Manager, John Stanek, will teach part of a class about Cooling Tower Fundamentals. John is a very erudite speaker, and his classes are always rated highly. The class is scheduled in the Tampa Bay Trane's training room from 6PM to 9PM at the cost of $80.00. This class is ideal for Engineers, Design Build Contractors, and Owners/Operating Personnel. John's part of the course will focus on Condenser Water Treatment. Main topics include the prevention of scaling, corrosion, algae, sediment, and other maintenance issues. Safety concerns will also be addressed, with particular attention on microorganisms such as Legionella Pneumophila, the bacteria that causes Legionnaire's Disease. To sign up for this class, go to <http://www.tampabaytrane.com/schedule.html>.

Our summer road show was quite a success

In August, Aqua Air and Marley hosted a road show. This consisted of a few of our product line companies, and a flatbed truck holding three new Marley units. There were over 200 guests in attendance!

One road show was held at our Tampa office location. We had a great turnout, including engineering students from a local college. The second stop for the show was near our Orlando office, and the last was at our Fort Myers location. The response was better than we anticipated, and we hope to hold another road show next summer.

Check out our new website

In September, Aqua Air decided it was time to overhaul our website to better suit the needs of you, our friends and customers. The site went live on October 7th, and the response has been tremendous. If you have not seen it yet, navigate on over to <http://www.AquaAirFL.com> and see what's new!

We will be posting news and features, updates to our product offerings and services, as well as downloadable material on a constant basis. If there is anything you would like to see, email our Marketing Director, Ambyr Lix, and offer your suggestions.

She can be reached at Ambyr.Lix@AquaAirFL.com.
